

I'm Jan Sin Ngo

SOCIAL ENTREPRENEUR AND INNOVATION DRIVER

2017 (M.Sc.) INNOVATION MANAGEMENT
AND BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

25.01.1987, BERLIN GERMANY

PROFIL

I characterise myself as a self-motivated person with a solution-oriented mindset. My ability to analyse complex issues, paired with my exceptional personal commitment always helped me to improve my personal performance as well as the productivity of the teams I was working in.

While I was working as a Business strategist I managed and lead teams across multiple sectors. During this time I developed a strength for solving problems and enjoyed to overcome various challenges. After all I am an open minded and friendly person. I am always eager to improve my skills and knowledge and willing to take the extra step to do so

VALUES

In a world full of opportunities and progresses and enormous social challenges, I devoted my entrepreneurial spirit to use my possibilities to offer new solutions for a positive development for our society. Maximising a positive social impact is the chance to overtake the ideal of maximising profits.

I am convinced that identifying innovation as the core of an organisation brings constant value to their customers, business and life and, therefore to their shareholders and stakeholders.
